Goals This introductory course Management of Organisations and Marketing serves two main purposes. First, it aims at providing you with crucial theoretical and practice-oriented knowledge that helps you to understand the functioning of companies and the behaviour of management in business contexts. This knowledge will be derived from two disciplines: management and organisation (1) and marketing (2). More details on the perspectives of these disciplines will be provided in the next section. A second purpose of this course relates to the development of basic learning skills that you will need throughout your study at Maastricht University. This skills training mainly focuses on Problem-Based Learning in an international classroom. We introduce the 7-jump, different roles in tutorial groups and various PBL working methods. During the group sessions, you will have ample opportunity to practice your newly acquired PBL skills.

- When you have successfully finished this course, you are:
- * capable of studying in an academic problem-based learning environment
 - * capable to give and receive feedback to/from your peers on their/your performance in the tutorial group setting
 - * knowledgeable of the foundations of management and organisation studies
 - * knowledgeable of the foundations of marketing studies
 - * capable of understanding and explaining basic organisational and marketing problems in isolation
 - * capable of applying marketing and management of organisations concepts in the context of an organisation
