Language of instruction English

Goals Learn about the notion of competition in a setting with many households, firms, and commodities. Understand the notions of competitive equilibrium, the first and second fundamental welfare theorem, and the core. Understand the role of financial markets in reshuffling income across time and states of the world. Learn about the consequences of market incompleteness. Understand the Capital Asset Pricing Model.

Description After introducing the necessary mathematical preliminaries and extending our knowledge on selected ingredients from consumer theory, the course focuses on general equilibrium models with complete markets, in particular classical exchange and production economies. Central concepts to be studied are the competitive equilibrium and the core. Next, the model is extended to include time and uncertainty, and the strong assumption of complete markets is relaxed. This makes it possible to incorporate financial markets in a satisfactory way. We study the relationships between equilibrium and arbitrage opportunities, and the valuation of financial securities. The well-known CAPM is a special case of the model studied. A rigorous derivation of the CAPM is provided.
