Goals
 * Students have knowledge about entrepreneurial theory and the literature about entrepreneurship and business start-ups
 * Students can put entrepreneurial theory in practice
 * Students can put together an entrepreneurial team
 * Students can develop approaches to evaluate market perception
 * Students can analyse the value creation potential of a venture idea

Description
 The course Entrepreneurship: Theory and Practices aims at introducing students to a range of topics in the field of entrepreneurship and linking both entrepreneurial theory as well as practice. Critical questions like who, why, when and where start-ups embark on their entrepreneurial journey, are covered during this course. The course seeks to introduce the students to the vast literature about entrepreneurship and business start-ups and it challenges students to connect this literature to actual cases. The course covers aspects like entrepreneurial competences, regional eco-systems, opportunity recognition, appropriation, female and minority entrepreneurship, entrepreneurial success, etc. From a more practical standpoint, it explores how to put together an entrepreneurial team, develop approaches for evaluating the market reception, and discover the value creation potential of one's venture idea.
